Dear Mr. DiGiorgi:

I write you to express my thanks and satisfaction for the job that your crews did installing my new roof. From my sales representative Don Boyce on down to the personnel in the office I found a pleasurable experience working with. All of your crews were courteous and went out of there way to make sure the job was done right. Even when my wife and I were not happy with the decision to use a rolled material in place of shingles on my backdoor overhang your staff came back out and took care of things to our satisfaction. The words I would use to best describe your company are dependable, reassuring, and professional who delivers outstanding workmanship and backs it up with an EverLast Warranty. That is the DiGiorgi difference.

Please feel free to use me as a reference and share this with others.

Sincerely,
